A Muslim's Islamic beliefs may take one of these forms:

- Sunni Muslims include 84%–90% of all Muslims. Sunni means “tradition,” and Sunnis regard themselves as those who emphasize following the traditions of Muhammad and of the first two generations of the community of Muslims that followed Muhammad.

A number of movements to reform Islam have originated mainly in the 20th century. Some are limited to one country and others have a broader influence. Most are Sunni movements, such as the Wahhabis, the Muslim Brotherhood, and Jama`at-i-Islami.
- Shi`ite Muslims comprise 10%–16% of all Muslims. Shi`ites are the “party of `Ali,” who believe that Muhammad’s son-in-law `Ali was his designated successor (imam) and that the Muslim community should be headed by a designated descendent of Muhammad. Three main subgroups of Shi`ites are Twelvers (Ithna-Asharis), Seveners (Isma`ilis), and Fivers (Zaydis).
- Sufis are Islamic mystics. Sufis go beyond external requirements of the religion to seek a personal experience of God through forms of meditation and spiritual growth. A number of Sufi orders, comparable to Christian monastic orders, exist. Most Sufis are also Sunni Muslims, although some are Shi`ite Muslims. Many conservative Sunni Muslims regard Sufism as a corruption of Islam, although most still regard Sufis as Muslims.
- Baha`is and Ahmadiyyas are 19th-century offshoots of Shi`ite and Sunni Islam, respectively. Bahai’s consider themselves the newest of the major world’s religions but recognize that historically they originated from Shi`ite Islam in the same way that Christianity originated from Judaism. Ahmadiyyas do regard themselves as Muslims. Most other Muslims, however, deny that either group is a legitimate form of Islam and regard members of both groups as heretics — people who have corrupted and abandoned Islamic belief and practice.
- Druze, Alevis, and `Alawis are small, sectarian groups with unorthodox beliefs and practices that split off from Islam. Druze and Alevis do not regard themselves as Muslims and are not considered Muslims by other Muslims. `Alawis have various non-

Islamic practices, but debate continues as to whether they should still be considered Muslims.

I. INTRODUCTION

Before the court is Plaintiffs State of Washington and State of Minnesota's (collectively, "the States") emergency motion for a temporary restraining order ("TRO").
(TRO Mot. (Dkt. ## 3, 19 (as amended)).) The court has reviewed the motion, the complaint (Compl. (Dkt. # 1)), the amended complaint (FAC (Dkt. # 18)), all the submissions of the parties related to the motion, the relevant portions of the record, and the applicable law. In addition, the court heard the argument of counsel on February 3, 21

1 2017. (See Min. Entry (Dkt. # 51).) Having considered all of the foregoing, the court
2 GRANTS the States' motion as set forth below.

3 II. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

4 On January 30, 2017, the State of Washington filed a complaint seeking 5 declaratory and injunctive relief against Defendants Donald J. Trump, in his official
6 capacity as President of the United States, the United States Department of Homeland
7 Security ("DHS"), John F. Kelly, in his official capacity as Secretary of DHS, Tom 8 Shannon, in his official capacity as Acting Secretary of State, and the United States of 9 America (collectively, "Federal Defendants"). (See Compl.) On February 1, 2017, the 10 State of Washington filed an amended complaint adding the State of Minnesota as a 11 plaintiff. (See FAC.) The States seek declaratory relief invalidating portions of the 12 Executive Order of January 27, 2017, entitled "Protecting the Nation from Foreign 13 Terrorist Entry into the United States" ("Executive Order") (see FAC Ex. 7 (attaching a 14 copy of the Executive Order)), and an order enjoining Federal Defendants from enforcing 15 those same portions of the Executive Order. (See generally FAC at 18.)

16 The States are presently before the court seeking a TRO against Federal 17 Defendants. (See generally TRO Mot.) The purpose of a TRO is to preserve the status
18 quo before the court holds a hearing on a motion for preliminary injunction. See Granny
19 Goose Foods, Inc. v. Bhd. Of Teamsters & Auto Truck Drivers Local No. 70 of Alameda
20 City, 415 U.S. 423, 439 (1974); Am. Honda Fin. Corp. v. Gilbert Imports, LLC, No.
21 CV-13-5015-EFS, 2013 WL 12120097, at *3 (E.D. Wash. Feb. 22, 2013) ("The purpose

1 of a TRO is to preserve the status quo until there is an opportunity to hold a hearing on 2 the application for a preliminary injunction") (internal quotation marks omitted).

3 Federal Defendants oppose the States' motion. (See generally Resp. (Dkt. # 50).)

4 III. FINDINGS OF FACT & CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

5 As an initial matter, the court finds that it has jurisdiction over Federal Defendants
6 and the subject matter of this lawsuit. The States' efforts to contact Federal Defendants
7 reasonably and substantially complied with the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil 8 Procedure 65(b). See Fed. R. Civ. P. 65(b). Indeed, Federal Defendants have appeared,
9 argued before the court, and defended their position in this action. (See Not. of App.
10 (Dkt. ## 20, 21); Min. Entry; see generally Resp.;)

11 The standard for issuing a TRO is the same as the standard for issuing a 12 preliminary injunction. See New Motor Vehicle Bd. of Cal. v. Orrin W. Fox Co., 434
13 U.S. 1345, 1347 n.2 (1977). A TRO is "an extraordinary remedy that may only be 14 awarded upon a clear showing that the plaintiff is entitled to such relief." *Winter v. Nat.
15 Res. Def. Council, Inc.*, 555 U.S. 7, 24 (2008). "The proper legal standard for 16 preliminary injunctive relief requires a party to demonstrate (1) 'that he is likely to 17 succeed on the merits, (2) that he is likely to suffer irreparable harm in the absence of 18 preliminary relief, (3) that the balance of equities tips in his favor, and (4) that an 19 injunction is in the public interest.'" Stormans, Inc. v. Selecky, 586 F.3d 1109, 1127 (9th 20 Cir. 2009) (citing Winter, 555 U.S. at 20).

21 As an alternative to this test, a preliminary injunction is appropriate if "serious 22 questions going to the merits were raised and the balance of the hardships tips sharply in

1 the plaintiff's favor," thereby allowing preservation of the status quo when complex legal
2 questions require further inspection or deliberation. All for the Wild Rockies v. Cottrell,
3 632 F.3d 1127, 1134-35 (9th Cir. 2011). However, the "serious questions" approach
4 supports the court's entry of a TRO only so long as the plaintiff also shows that there is a
5 likelihood of irreparable injury and that the injunction is in the public interest. Id. at 6 1135. The moving party bears the burden of persuasion and must make a clear showing 7 that it is entitled to such relief. Winter, 555 U.S. at 22.

8 The court finds that the States have satisfied these standards and that the court
9 should issue a TRO. The States have satisfied the Winter test because they have shown
10 that they are likely to succeed on the merits of the claims that would entitle them to relief;
11 the States are likely to suffer irreparable harm in the absence of preliminary relief; the 12 balance of the equities favor the States; and a TRO is in the public interest. The court 13 also finds that the States have satisfied the "alternative" Cottrell test because they have 14 established at least serious questions going to the merits of their claims and that the 15 balance of the equities tips sharply in their favor. As the court noted for the Winter test, 16 the States have also established a likelihood of irreparable injury and that a TRO is in the 17 public interest.

18 Specifically, for purposes of the entry of this TRO, the court finds that the States 19 have met their burden of demonstrating that they face immediate and irreparable injury as 20 a result of the signing and implementation of the Executive Order. The Executive Order
21 adversely affects the States' residents in areas of employment, education, business, 22 family relations, and freedom to travel. These harms extend to the States by virtue of

1 their roles as parens patriae of the residents living within their borders. In addition, the
2 States themselves are harmed by virtue of the damage that implementation of the
3 Executive Order has inflicted upon the operations and missions of their public
4 universities and other institutions of higher learning, as well as injury to the States'
5 operations, tax bases, and public funds. These harms are significant and ongoing.
6 Accordingly, the court concludes that a TRO against Federal Defendants is necessary
7 until such time as the court can hear and decide the States' request for a preliminary
8 injunction.

9 IV. TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

10 It is hereby ORDERED that:

- 11 1. Federal Defendants and all their respective officers, agents, servants,
12 employees, attorneys, and persons acting in concert or participation with them
13 are hereby ENJOINED and RESTRAINED from:
 - 14 (a) Enforcing Section 3(c) of the Executive Order;
 - 15 (b) Enforcing Section 5(a) of the Executive Order;
 - 16 (c) Enforcing Section 5(b) of the Executive Order or proceeding with any 17 action that prioritizes the refugee claims of certain religious minorities;
 - 18 (d) Enforcing Section 5(c) of the Executive Order;
 - 19 (e) Enforcing Section 5(e) of the Executive Order to the extent Section 5(e) 20 purports to prioritize refugee claims of certain religious minorities.
- 21 2. This TRO is granted on a nationwide basis and prohibits enforcement of 22 Sections 3(c), 5(a), 5(b), 5(c), and 5(e) of the Executive Order (as described in

1 their roles as parens patriae of the residents living within their borders. In addition, the
2 States themselves are harmed by virtue of the damage that implementation of the
3 Executive Order has inflicted upon the operations and missions of their public
4 universities and other institutions of higher learning, as well as injury to the States'
5 operations, tax bases, and public funds. These harms are significant and ongoing.
6 Accordingly, the court concludes that a TRO against Federal Defendants is necessary
7 until such time as the court can hear and decide the States' request for a preliminary
8 injunction.

9 IV. TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

10 It is hereby ORDERED that:

- 11 1. Federal Defendants and all their respective officers, agents, servants,
12 employees, attorneys, and persons acting in concert or participation with them
13 are hereby ENJOINED and RESTRAINED from:
 - 14 (a) Enforcing Section 3(c) of the Executive Order;
 - 15 (b) Enforcing Section 5(a) of the Executive Order;
 - 16 (c) Enforcing Section 5(b) of the Executive Order or proceeding with any 17 action that prioritizes the refugee claims of certain religious minorities;
 - 18 (d) Enforcing Section 5(c) of the Executive Order;
 - 19 (e) Enforcing Section 5(e) of the Executive Order to the extent Section 5(e) 20 purports to prioritize refugee claims of certain religious minorities.
- 21 2. This TRO is granted on a nationwide basis and prohibits enforcement of 22 Sections 3(c), 5(a), 5(b), 5(c), and 5(e) of the Executive Order (as described in

1 the above paragraph) at all United States borders and ports of entry pending
2 further orders from this court. Although Federal Defendants argued that any 3 TRO should be limited to the States at issue (see Resp. at 30), the resulting 4 partial implementation of the Executive Order “would undermine the 5 constitutional imperative of ‘a uniform Rule of Naturalization’ and Congress’s
6 instruction that ‘the immigration laws of the United States should be enforced
7 vigorously and uniformly.’” Texas v. United States, 809 F.3d 134, 155 (5th
8 Cir. 2015) (footnotes omitted) (quoting U.S. CONST. art. I, § 8, cl. 4
9 (emphasis added) and Immigration and Reform Control Act of 1986, Pub. L.
10 No. 99-603, § 115(1), 100 Stat. 3359, 3384 (emphasis added)).¹

- 11 3. No security bond is required under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 65(c).
- 12 4. Finally, the court orders the parties to propose a briefing schedule and noting 13 date with respect to the States’ motion for a preliminary injunction no later
14 than Monday, February 6, 2017 at 5:00 p.m. The court will promptly schedule
15 a hearing on the States’ motion for a preliminary injunction, if requested and 16 necessary, following receipt of the parties’ briefing.

17 V. CONCLUSION

18 Fundamental to the work of this court is a vigilant recognition that it is but one of 19 three equal branches of our federal government. The work of the court is not to create 20 policy or judge the wisdom of any particular policy promoted by the other two branches.

22 ¹An equally divided Supreme Court affirmed Texas v. United States, 809 F.3d 134, in United States v. Texas, --- U.S. ----, 136 S. Ct. 2271 (2016) (per curiam).

1 That is the work of the legislative and executive branches and of the citizens of this
2 country who ultimately exercise democratic control over those branches. The work of the 3 Judiciary, and this court, is limited to ensuring that the actions taken by the other two 4 branches comport with our country's laws, and more importantly, our Constitution. The 5 narrow question the court is asked to consider today is whether it is appropriate to enter a 6 TRO against certain actions taken by the Executive in the context of this specific lawsuit.
7 Although the question is narrow, the court is mindful of the considerable impact its order
8 may have on the parties before it, the executive branch of our government, and the 9 country's citizens and residents. The court concludes that the circumstances brought 10 before it today are such that it must intervene to fulfill its constitutional role in our tripart 11 government. Accordingly, the court concludes that entry of the above-described TRO is 12 necessary, and the States' motion (Dkt. ## 2, 19) is therefore GRANTED.

April 23, Stone Mountain Park, Stone Mountain: What was supposed to be a major white supremacist event, "Rock Stone Mountain," is instead attended by just over a dozen white power activists, who are fenced in and surrounded by police. Hundreds of anti-racist protesters drive white power numbers down, as these anti-racists skirmish with police plus confront stray neo-Nazis and Klansmen. Nine anti-racists are arrested, although at the time of writing all but one has had charges dropped. The "Rock Stone Mountain" event was organized by Hapeville white supremacist John Michael Estes, with assistance from "Southern Rebel Patriots" (International Keystone Knights of the Ku Klux Klan participants Greg and Jodi Calhoun of Cedartown.) Gabriel Diaz, a man of Dominican ancestry from the Bronx, NY who has Nazi sympathies, attempted to infiltrate the Stone Mountain anti-racist protest on behalf of the National Socialist Movement.

Diaz's efforts were later exposed online. April 23, Rome: National Socialist Movement combine forces with Loyal White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Aryan Nations Worldwide, Aryan Strikeforce and other groups for rally outside Joint Law Enforcement Center in downtown Rome. News stories give numbers of white supremacists as 80-100, who were greatly outnumbered by counter-protesters. (picture from event on cover) April 23 (evening), Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: Combined after-event for the National Socialist Movement rally in Rome as well as for "Rock Stone Mountain." Approximately 75 people attend this event, which features a cross-burning.

Talk is in the air of the Aryan Nationalist Alliance, a national partnership bringing together several white power organizations, which was formally launched at a meeting at the Georgia Peach the evening before. May 22, Rome: League of the South-affiliated white nationalist Floyd Eric Meadows and associates attempt to counter-protest New Black Panther Party gathering in Rome. However, the white nationalists are intercepted by police, who presumably feared violence. (Earlier discussion of the New Black Panther Party event on Meadows' Facebook included one person making the comment: "Firebomb.") May 25: Website for Aryan Nations Worldwide, a Villa Rica-based faction of the white supremacist Aryan Nations, goes online. May 29, Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: Aryan Nations Worldwide host "Meet and Greet" event.

(Note: Online photos indicate that several smaller get-togethers - at times involving Loyal White Knights of the KKK members together with Aryan Nations Worldwide - occurred during this period. Only the most significant of these events are listed in this chronology.) June 11, Rome: National Socialist Movement gathering at private home, hosted by Floyd Eric Meadows (see May 22 entry.) International Keystone Knights of the Ku Klux Klan members also attend. Group photo from gathering prominently features League of the South southern nationalist flag in addition to Nazi and Klan flags. July 3, Atlanta: White nationalist organization Identity Europa posts images of small number of propaganda stickers placed in downtown Atlanta. July 5, Atlanta: Supreme Court of Georgia rules in favor of International Keystone Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, who in 2012 sued through the American Civil Liberties Union to adopt a one-mile stretch of State Route 212 in Union County via the Adopt-A-Highway program. July 10, Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: Aryan Nations Worldwide hold meeting at Georgia Peach Oyster Bar and mini-protest on roadside, with members holding signs such as "Only White Lives Matter" and "Mud Beast [Black] Lives Don't Matter."

Randall Wiley Smith (owner-operator of Wholesale Tire and Auto LLC in Villa Rica) pictured holding noose. July 17, Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: Aryan Nations and Loyal White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan joint gathering and protest. July 17, near Rome: Loyal White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan flyers discovered Sunday night in two different neighborhoods. The flyers urged opposition to Black Lives Matter as well as joining the Klan. July 21: Post on VK.com social networking formally announces that "NSM [National Socialist Movement] Atlanta is under new leadership Eric [Floyd Eric Meadows of Rome]". August 1: First broadcast of "NSM Hoff" internet radio show, part of the National Socialist Movement's media network.

This weekly show is hosted by "[Floyd] Eric [Meadows], the leader of NSM Georgia" and discusses a racist variant of Norse heathenism. Early August, Little 5 Points, Atlanta: Celtic cross symbol favored by white nationalists found spray-painted on wall. Graffiti removed by antifascists. August 22, Covington: Hundreds attend public hearings on plans for a mosque in Newton County, the majority opposing this development. Due to this protest, a temporary moratorium on mosque construction is issued. August 28, Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: Winners of Aryan Nations Worldwide fundraising raffle announced (top prizes were Klan robes). Funds raised went to Gary Yarbrough, currently imprisoned for his role in the white supremacist terrorist group The Order during the 1980s.

(Yarbrough's wife is based in Louisiana and is active with Aryan Nations Worldwide from there.) September 3: Loyal White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan hold rally and crossburning in Georgia (location not specified.) September 4, Woodstock: Aryan Nations Labor Day weekend social gathering at Clove Tree Lane residence of Ralph Neil Scroy. September 6, Atlanta: White nationalist group Identity Europa posts on Twitter about small number of organization stickers placed in Atlanta earlier. September 11, Covington: Members of the far-Right Georgia Security Force III% militia post a video online (later deleted) in which they call Muslims followers of the Antichrist, and appear to trespass on the site of a proposed mosque. September 13, Covington: Outside Newton County Courthouse, Georgia Security Force III% militia members hold armed protest with Islamophobic allies such as Jim Stachowiak. Earlier, Newton County commissioners had canceled their scheduled discussion of a Muslim congregation's plans for a mosque, citing hostile posts on social media. September 17, Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: An Aryan Nationalist Alliance gathering attracts a couple of dozen participants, predominantly from the National Socialist Movement and Aryan Nations Worldwide. Confederate Hammerskins allegedly attend but are camera-shy. The event also features Floyd Eric Meadows' marriage ceremony with his new wife Angela (who also supports the NSM.) Giant wooden swastika burned in field behind venue. September 20, Covington: Another handful of armed anti-mosque protesters outside Newton County courthouse, but moratorium on mosque construction expires.

September 24, East Atlanta Village, Atlanta: At East Atlanta Strut festival, two individuals sell stickers with the Totenkopf ("death's head") symbol used by the Nazi SS, accompanied with the phrase "East Atlanta Village." (image beside entry) September 29, Georgia State University campus, Atlanta: Handful of stickers and posters for white nationalist group Identity Europa placed around campus. Subsequently removed by antifascists. October 1, Georgia Peach Oyster Bar, Draketown/Temple: Confederate Hammerskins host "Hammerfest," the annual gathering of the Hammerskin Nation. Headlining musical act is Mistreat, a racist bonehead (pseudo- "skinhead") band from Finland.

Other musical acts that played at this event have been linked to a mass shooting of Sikh worshippers in Wisconsin, and an attack on a synagogue in Oregon. Headlining speakers were Matthew Heimbach of the Traditional Workers Party, and Draketown GA neo-Nazi Chester Doles (a public Hammerskin supporter.) We estimate Hammerfest attendance at 100-120 people (this number includes performers and security.) One attendee, former Hammerskin Dave Nichols, is subjected to a brutal gang beating by other attendees. October 1, Seaborne Jones Park, Rockmart: The International Keystone Knights of the Ku Klux Klan had planned to hold a "White Christian Community Event" from 10AM to 6PM this day. However, due to organized opposition from anti-racists, one of the signatories on the event permit (Christopher Bailey of Cedartown) backed out on September 23, leading to the City of Rockmart canceling permission for the event. Early October, in or near Atlanta: "AltRight" gathering attracts approximately two dozen participants. (pictured next to entry) October 2, Mary Lin Elementary School, Candler Park neighborhood, Atlanta: anti-Semitic graffiti written in chalk is discovered at Mary Lin Elementary School.

Messages included "Hail Hitler" and swastikas. October 3 (morning), Lake Park neighborhood, Albany: Loyal White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan recruitment flyers discovered in morning - distributed overnight to homes on six roads. October 8, Grantville: On this date, the League of the South had planned to rally in Grantville, to exploit the murder of a nearby elderly white woman for their racist recruiting purposes. The event was cancelled on September 22nd after the LoS faced severe criticism for their proposed protest. October 15: East Coast Knights hold a cross-burning on private land in Georgia (exact location unknown.) (image located below) October 16, Georgia State University, Atlanta: Milo Yiannopoulos, an Alt-Right sympathizer, internet harasser and transphobic activist, speaks to hundreds at a "Millennials for Trump" event sponsored by College Republicans at Georgia State University. October 17, Helen:

A man visits beer hall wearing full Nazi SS uniform. October 19 (morning), Towne Lake Hills South neighborhood, Woodstock: Loyal White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan flyers discovered in driveways, had been distributed overnight. Flyer attacks transgender people and advocates for gender-neutral bathrooms.

White supremacist and ardent Nazi follower William Dudley Pelley, a New England native of what he calls "uncontaminated English stock," founds the Silver Shirts, a neo-Nazi organization, in Asheville, North Carolina, the same day that Adolf Hitler ascends to power in Germany. Apparently Pelley funds the organization through the proceeds of a best-selling book, Seven Minutes in Eternity, in which he claimed to have died and gone to "the beyond" for a seven-minute period. Pelley and his followers, including Henry Lamont "Mike" Beach (see 1969), dress themselves in silver shirts emblazoned with a large cursive "L," blue corduroy knickers, and gold stockings. Pelley considers himself a Republican, though he is not politically active in the usual sense.

Anti-Semitic, Anti-Government - His efforts attract members from pro-Nazi groups, Ku Klux Klan chapters, and others sympathetic to his anti-Semitic views. In August 1933, the American Jewish Committee (AJC) will warn: "The Silver Shirts came into existence the early part of this year. They are enrolling white Protestant Christians as members of a Christian militia, through a plan of State encampments that are reported to extend into various states of the Union, with posts in every community." According to Silver Shirt documents obtained by the AJC, the group intends to bring about the establishment of a strictly Christian government in the US; accuses President Roosevelt of being a "dictator" and "set[ting] aside the Constitution, which they desire to restore"; intends to "save [the] United States from a state of Sovietism into which... the Jews are leading the country"; accuses Jews of being a "money power" bent on destroying the nation's economy via their "control" of the Federal Reserve; and says that "a people who constitute only 2.5 per cent of the population [Jews] to be held down to a 2.5 per cent influence in the American government, and we propose to see that it is brought about, race prejudice or no!" The group also advocates a form of direct democracy, in which citizens mail in their votes for or against pending legislation, and proposes the reorganization of America into what it calls a "colossus corporation," where "[e]very citizen shall be both a common and a preferred stockholder."

Psychic Messages - Pelley claims to receive psychic messages from "the vastness of cosmos," including two sets of documents, the "Esoteric Doctrines of the Liberation Enlightenment" and the "Liberation Scripts," which set forth the "Christ government" he intends to establish. In a Silver Shirt newsletter, Pelley writes: "It is the order of things that those wicked and malignant spirits who have incarnated in certain sections of the Hebrew race trying to bring the downfall of the Christ Peoples, should meet a fearful fate in this closing of the Cycle of Cosmic Event. That contest is on-the-make and Hitler's job it has been to do the advance work. But Hitler is not going to finish that work. THE FINISH OF IT COMES RIGHT HERE IN AMERICA!" Pelley writes that "the Jew" is possessed of a "nomadic character, making him an internationalist whose ultimate objectives may well mean the destruction and disappearance of the United States." [AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE, 8/24/1933; IAN GELDARD, 2/19/1995; DAVID NEIWERT, 6/17/2003]

Spike in Membership Will Dwindle - Pelley's group will enjoy its largest membership of some 15,000 in 1934; four years later, the group will dwindle to around 5,000 members. [THE HOLOCAUST CHRONICLE, 2009] Pelley will be convicted of sedition in 1942, and by the time he emerges from prison in 1950, his Silver Shirts will have long since disappeared.

'Christian Fascist' - In the early 1980s, graduate student Karen Hopps will write extensively about Pelley.

She will write of his Christian fundamentalism: "[T]he link with fundamental Christianity establishes the uniqueness of American fascism. The majority of fascist groups justified their existence by their desire to change the United States into a Christian society.... The relationship between the religious identity of these groups and their political demands can be shown by a careful survey of their rhetoric. The Christian fascist does not distinguish between the application of the terms anti-Christ, Jew, and Communist. Neither does he distinguish between Gentile and Christian." [DAVID NEIWERT, 6/17/2003]

▲ The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) releases the findings of its investigation into the Peekskill riots (see August 27, 1949 and September 4, 1949, and After). The report concludes, in part:

- "There is no evidence whatever of Communist provocation... on either occasion."
- "While the demonstrations were organized to protest against and express hatred of Communism, the unprovoked rioting which resulted was fostered largely by anti-Semitism, growing out of local resentment against the increasing influx of Jewish summer residents from New York." Some of the violence was triggered, the ACLU finds, by resentment left over from earlier attacks on a local Ku Klux Klan chapter. One of the buses used by the rioters carried a bumper sticker that read: "COMMUNISM IS TREASON. BEHIND COMMUNISM STANDS—THE JEW! THEREFORE, FOR MY COUNTRY—AGAINST THE JEWS."
- "The local press bears the main responsibility for inflaming, possibly through sheer irresponsibility, Peekskill residents to a mood of violence."
- "[Leftist activist and singer Paul] Robeson's concerts were not an intrusion into Peekskill but were private gatherings held five miles outside of Peekskill, which were disrupted deliberately by invading gangs from nearby localities."
- "Terrorism was general against all who advocated freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, and preservation of constitutional rights."
- "The evidence proves beyond question that the veterans intended to prevent the concerts from being held."
 - "Effective police protection at the first concert was deliberately withheld."
 - "Preparations to police the second concert appeared adequate; therefore, there was reason to believe that the concert-goers would be protected.... These preparations were largely a sham insofar as the Westchester County police were concerned and left the concert-goers undefended."
 - "The wounding of William Secor, rioting veteran, occurred while he was assisting in the commission of a crime." Secor, one of the rioters who attacked the concert-goers, was apparently the victim of an accidental knifing by one of his own colleagues.
 - "The evidence indicates that at least some of the state troopers honestly tried to preserve law and order while county police fraternized with the rioters."
 - "There is strong indication that the initial violence was planned and was carried out according to plan." The report details eyewitness accounts of veterans and locals filling the trunks of their cars with rocks. "The wide extent of the stoning indicates careful planning on the part of some person or persons. It can hardly be coincidence that, as cars with broken windows streamed down the county towards New York, they were met with volleys of stones in community after community through which they passed."

- "Terrorism spread over the whole area and included threats against private individuals, against their safety, lives, property, and business."
- "National condemnation has been the chief factor causing residents of the Peekskill area to question this action. The local clergy have joined in this denunciation.... Sentiment in the area is now sharply divided and there is evidence that the legal authorities are moving toward restriction of freedom of speech and assembly, presumably in violation of the Constitution." 1960s and After: Racist, Separatist 'Christian Identity' Theology Spreads across US

■ One of a number of semi-official 'Christian Identity' logos. [Source: KingIdentity.com] The "Christian Identity" theology, formerly a fairly benign expression of what is known as "British-Israelism" or "Anglo-Israelism," begins to spread throughout the US and Canada, particularly on the west coasts of these nations. This belief holds that white Americans and Canadians are the real descendants of the Biblical tribes of Israel. In 2003, author Nicole Nichols, an expert on far-right racist and religious groups in America, will define the concept of "Christian Identity" as practiced by many white supremacist and separatist groups.

Christian Identity is not an organization, she will write, but an ideology that many organizations have adopted in some form or fashion. Christian Identity "elevates white supremacy and separatism to a Godly ideal," she will write, calling it "the ideological fuel that fires much of the activity of the racist far right." According to Christian Identity theology, Jews are neither the "true Israelites" nor the true "chosen people" of God; instead, Christian Identity proponents claim, Jews are descended from an Asiatic people known as the Khazars, who settled near the Black Sea during the Middle Ages. [NICOLE NICHOLS, 2003; ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005; ONTARIO CONSULTANTS ON RELIGIOUS TOLERANCE, 5/30/2006]

In 2005, the Ontario Consultants on Religious Tolerance will write, "Followers tend to be involved in political movements opposing gun control, equal rights to gays and lesbians, and militia movements," and quote Michael Barkun, an expert on radical-right groups, as saying, "This virulent racist and anti-Semitic theology... is prevalent among many right-wing extremist groups and has been called the 'glue' of the racist right." [ONTARIO CONSULTANTS ON RELIGIOUS TOLERANCE, 5/30/2006]

Beginnings; 'The Protocols of the Elders of Zion' - In the 1920s, William J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent weekly newspaper, popularized the anti-Semitic hoax manuscript called "The Protocols of the Elders of Zion," which purported to detail the "secret teachings" of Judaism, including the planned takeover of the world's governments, the subjugation of non-Semitic races, and the bizarre, cannibalistic rituals supposedly practiced by Jews. [ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005]

Wesley Swift and 'Mud People' - In the 1940s, a former Methodist minister, Wesley Swift, started his own church, later known as the Church of Jesus Christ Christian. Swift had deep ties to a number of radical right-wing groups including the Ku Klux Klan; Swift and his associates set the stage for the mutation of the Christian Identity into a loosely organized set of virulently anti-Semitic, racist belief systems that will come to be grouped together under the “Christian Identity” rubric. Swift himself taught that only the white race was created in the form of God, while Asian and African races were created from the “beasts of the fields,” and thusly are subhuman creations. In Swift’s version of Genesis, Eve, the wife of the first “true” man Adam, was seduced by The Serpent, who masqueraded as a white man. Eve bore a son, Cain, who is the actual father of the Jewish people. This reinterpretation, sometimes called the “two-seed” or “seedliner” theory, supports the Christian Identity propensity to demonize Jews, whom Swift and others labeled the “spawn of Satan.” Today’s white Europeans and their American and Canadian descendants, Swift taught, are descended from the “true son” of Adam and Eve, Abel, and are the actual “chosen people” of God. Some Christian Identity adherents go even farther, claiming that subhuman “pre-Adamic” races existed and “spawned” the non-white races of the world, which they label “mud people.” [NICOLE NICHOLS, 2003; ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005]

Permeates Racist, Far-Right Groups - By the 1960s, a new group of Christian Identity leaders emerges to spread the Identity theology through the radical, racist right in America and Canada, popularizing the once-obscure ideology. Most prominent among them are three disciples of Swift: James K. Warner, William Potter Gale, and Richard Butler. Warner, who will move to Louisiana and play a leading role in the fight against civil rights, founds the Christian Defense League and the New Christian Crusade Church. Gale, an early leader of the Christian Defense League and its paramilitary arm, the California Rangers, goes on to found the Posse Comitatus (see 1969), the group that will help bring about the sovereign citizen movement. Gale will later found the Committee of the States and serve as the “chief of staff” of its “unorganized militia.” Butler moves Swift’s Church of Jesus Christ Christian to Idaho and recasts it as the neo-Nazi group Aryan Nations (see Early 1970s). Under the leadership of Butler, Gale, Warner, and others, Christian Identity soon permeates most of the major far-right movements, including the Klan and a racist “skinhead” organization known as the Hammerskins. It also penetrates many extreme anti-government activist groups.

The Anti-Defamation League will write, “The resurgence of right-wing extremism in the 1990s following the Ruby Ridge (see August 31, 1992) and Waco standoffs (see April 19, 1993) further spread Identity beliefs.” [ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005] Nichols will write: “Christian Identity enclaves provide a trail of safe havens for movement activists, stretching from Hayden Lake in northern Idaho (the Aryan Nations stronghold) to Elohim City on the Oklahoma/Arkansas border (see 1973 and After). Many white supremacists on the run from federal authorities have found shelter and support from Christian Identity followers.” Some organizations such as the Montana Militia are headed by Identity adherents, but do not as a group promote the theology. [NICOLE NICHOLS, 2003; ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005]

Bringing Forth the Apocalypse - Many Christian Identity adherents believe that the Biblical Apocalypse—the end of the world as it is currently known and the final ascendancy of select Christians over all others—is coming soon. Unlike some Christians, Identity adherents do not generally believe in the “rapture,” or the ascendancy of “saved” Christians to Heaven before the Apocalypse ensues; instead, Identity followers believe Jesus Christ will return to Earth only after the time of the “Tribulation,” a great battle between good and evil, which will set the stage for the return of Christ and the final transformation of the world. Identity followers believe it is their duty to prepare for the Apocalypse, and some believe it is their duty to help bring it about. They tend to cast the Apocalypse in racial terms—whites vs. nonwhites. Identity adherents believe that worldly institutions will collapse during the “end times,” and therefore tend to distrust such institutions, making Identity theology appealing to anti-government ideologies of groups such as militia, “Patriot,” and sovereign citizens groups. [ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005]

21st Century Identity - In the 21st century, Christian Identity groups are strongest in the Pacific Northwest of America and Canada, and the US Midwest, though Identity churches can be found throughout the US and in other parts of Canada. Identity churches also exist in, among other nations, Ireland, Great Britain, Australia, and South Africa (see June 25, 2003). The Anti-Defamation League will write: “Yet while spread far it is also spread thin. Estimates of the total number of believers in North America vary from a low of 25,000 to a high of 50,000; the true number is probably closer to the low end of the scale. Given this relatively small following, its extensive penetration of the far right is all the more remarkable.” [ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 2005]

Identity Violence - Identity adherents commit a number of violent acts, often against government and/or financial institutions, in an outsized proportion to their small numbers. In 1983, Identity adherent Gordon Kahl kills two US Marshals who attempt to arrest him on a parole violation, and kills an Arkansas sheriff before finally being gunned down by authorities (see February 13, 1983 and After). The white supremacist terrorist group The Order (see Late September 1983) contains a number of Identity members, including David Tate, who kills a Missouri Highway Patrol officer while attempting to flee to an Identity survivalist compound (see April 15, 1985). During the 1980s, small Identity groups such as The New Order (or The Order II) and the Arizona Patriots commit bombings and armored car robberies. After the Oklahoma City bombing (see 8:35 a.m. - 9:02 a.m. April 19, 1995), Identity minister Willie Ray Lampley attempts a number of bombings (see November 9, 1995). In 1996, the Montana Freeman, led by Identity members, “stands off” federal authorities for 81 days (see March 25, 1996). Between 1996 and 1998, Eric Robert Rudolph, who has connections to Identity ministers such as Nord Davis and Dan Gayman, bombs an Atlanta gay bar (see February 21, 1997), several abortion clinics (see October 14, 1998), and the Atlanta Summer Olympics (see July 27, 1996 and After). In 1999, Identity member and former Aryan Nations security guard Buford Furrow goes on a shooting spree at a Jewish community center in Los Angeles (see August 10, 1999). 1980: Avowed Racist, Anti-Semite Convicted of Murder in Killing Spree

¶ Joseph Paul Franklin. [Source: Jackson Clarion Ledger] Joseph Paul Franklin, a resident of Memphis, Tennessee, confesses to attempting to kill Larry Flynt, the publisher of Hustler magazine, and civil rights leader Vernon Jordan. Franklin's motives are, according to his own statements, frankly racist. He admits to having been a member of the Ku Klux Klan and other white supremacist groups, a former believer in the Christian Identity theology (see 1960s and After), and for a long time considered himself a Nazi. On March 6, 1978, he shot Flynt outside a Georgia courtroom, paralyzing the publisher for life. On May 29, 1980, he shot and severely injured Jordan outside a Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marriott hotel. Franklin says he tried to kill Flynt because he published photographs of a racially mixed couple having simulated sex. He says he shot Jordan, an African-American, because he saw him with a white woman. From 1977 through 1980, Franklin says, he embarked on a "mission" to rid America of blacks, Jews, and whites who like minorities.

He claims the credit for robbing a number of banks, bombing a Tennessee synagogue, killing two black men in Utah who were jogging with white women, and shooting a black man and white woman as they left a Tennessee restaurant. In total, Franklin says he may have killed 20 people in a 10-state, racially motivated shooting spree; when asked how many he'd killed, he says, "Not nearly enough." Franklin explains why he shot so many people: "I was trying to start a race war at the time....

I figured other whites would do it, too, and eventually we'd have a full-fledged race war." He says that in 1977 he went on the "warpath. I decided to cut loose in 1977. I was working these dead-end jobs. I thought, 'I'm just going to go out and kill some Jews.'" Franklin says he was inspired in part by convicted serial killer Charles Manson. He is convicted of a number of crimes, including the 1977 murder of Missouri resident Gerald Gordon, and sentenced to death for Gordon's murder. During his murder trial, Franklin calmly explains the length he went to to avoid detection: buying a rifle in Dallas through a classified ad, filing off the serial number, and carrying it in a guitar case; finding synagogues in the Yellow Pages, using a bicycle to approach and leave the scenes of his crimes quickly and without detection; and using a police scanner to keep abreast of law enforcement activities. He tells the court that he has no regrets regarding any of his crimes: asked if he feels remorse for any of his actions, he says: "I can't say that I do.

The only thing I'm sorry about is that it's not legal." Asked, "What's not legal?" he replies, "Killing Jews." Psychiatrist Dorothy Otnow Lewis, who has interviewed a large number of serial killers and spree killers, testifies that Franklin is a paranoid schizophrenic, details the brutal physical abuse he suffered as a child, and details a number of bizarre beliefs he seems to hold. Franklin denies being "stark raving mad," but admits to a few "minor neuroses." As to Lewis's contention that he was unable to stop himself from committing his crimes, Franklin says: "I think it is hogwash, to tell you the truth. I knew exactly what I was doing." Lewis later says she believes all serial and spree killers are mentally or emotionally dysfunctional and not directly responsible for their actions. [TIME, 11/16/1980; NEW YORKER, 2/24/1997; JACKSON CLARION LEDGER, 2/25/2010] The 1989 novel Hunter, by William Pierce, the author of the infamous Turner Diaries (see 1978), will be dedicated to Franklin. The main character of the novel kills interracial couples in an attempt to foment a race war. [NEW YORK TIMES, 7/24/2002] The racist, white supremacist group Aryan Nations will give Franklin a medal for his actions. [JACKSON CLARION LEDGER, 2/25/2010]

1981 and After: White Supremacist Holds Influential Gathering

Richard Butler, the head of the white separatist and neo-Nazi organization Aryan Nations (see Early 1970s), hosts the first Aryan World Congress at the Nations compound in Hayden Lake, Idaho. The event attracts many of the area's racist leaders. Butler begins holding more gatherings in subsequent years and begins appointing state leaders of Aryan Nations chapters. One of the brightest young leaders in Butler's coterie is Robert Jay Mathews, who will go on to found the violent white supremacist group The Order (see Late September 1983). Other prominent Nations members at the conferences include:

Tom Metzger, leader of the White Aryan Resistance; Louis Beam, a former Klansman who will promote the concept of "leaderless resistance" (see February 1992); Don Black, a former Klansman who will create Stormfront, the largest white separatist forum on the Internet; and Kirk Lyons, a well-known lawyer who will represent a number of extremists facing criminal charges.  Douglas Bay, Dominica. [Source: Happy Tellus (.com)] Two of three mercenaries accused of plotting to overthrow the government of the tiny Caribbean island nation of Dominica are found guilty of conspiracy and violation of the Neutrality Act. Stephen Don Black, a prominent Alabama Ku Klux Klan leader, and Joe Daniel Hawkins, a Klansman from Mississippi, are found guilty of the charges. Both are found not guilty of violating five firearms statutes. The plot began in 1979, when the neighboring island country of Grenada was taken over by a socialist regime with ties to the Communist government of Cuba's Fidel Castro. Mike Perdue, a former Marine and prominent white supremacist, discussed retaking Grenada with ousted former Prime Minister Eric Gairy. Perdue sought out Klan Imperial Wizard David Duke, who put him in touch with white supremacist Donald Clarke Andrews, then living in Canada. Andrews had led the white supremacist group Western Guard, and after serving a jail sentence for neo-Nazi activities, founded a new pro-Aryan group, the Nationalist Party of Canada. Andrews convinced Perdue that Dominica might be a good place from which to stage a coup in Grenada. Dominica was in the grip of grinding poverty, having been devastated by a hurricane in 1979 and plagued with racial violence from a splinter group of Rastafarians called the Dreads. The island's government was unstable and, Perdue and Andrews believed, ripe for overthrow.

Perdue partnered with another supremacist, Wolfgang Droege, and began planning to stage a coup that would place former Prime Minister Patrick John back in power. Even though John was something of a leftist, and wanted to displace the much more right-wing and pro-American Prime Minister, Eugenia Charles, in September 1980 Perdue and John agreed in writing to commence what they called "Operation Red Dog," a violent coup with the goal of placing John back in charge of the government. The Washington Times will later report: "The coup forged some odd alliances.

[It] united right-wing North Americans and Caribbean leftists, white nationalists and black revolutionaries; First World capitalists and Third World Socialists." Canadian writer Stewart Bell later describes Perdue as a man of no real political convictions and a lust for money who routinely lies about his Vietnam experience (he never served in Southeast Asia, and did not tell his companions that he was a homosexual), and Droege as a German-Canadian high school dropout with neo-Nazi sympathies. Others involved in the putative coup are nightclub owner and white supremacist Charles Yanover, gunrunner Sydney Burnett-Alleyne (who supplied the initial connection to John), Black, Hawkins, and a small number of others.

The mercenaries' plan was to put John back in power; in return, John would give them license to use the island as a haven for casinos, drug smuggling, and money laundering. Almost from the outset, the conspiracy was infiltrated by two agents from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF), John Osburg and Wally Grafton, who were alerted to the planned coup by charter boat captain Mike Howell. Perdue had tried to hire Howell to take the mercenaries to Dominica, and told Howell that his was a CIA operation. Members of the operation also talked to others about it; one even gave a "secret" interview to a radio reporter in Hamilton. Osburg and Grafton alerted law enforcement authorities; on the night of the raid, federal authorities overwhelmed the small band of mercenaries, arrested them all, and confiscated a large number of firearms, 10 pounds of dynamite, over 5,000 rounds of ammunition, and a large red-and-black Nazi flag.

The operation was later derisively termed the "Bayou of Pigs," a joking reference to the 1961 attempt by right-wing American mercenaries to overthrow Castro's government. John was arrested in Dominica. Perdue and six other participants have already pled guilty to violating the Neutrality Act. Before his sentencing of three years in prison, Black says, "What we were doing was in the best interests of the United States and its security in the hemisphere, and we feel betrayed by our own government." March 1995: White Supremacist Launches Stormfront, Related Web Site

 Stephen “Don” Black. [Source: Page2Live (.com)] Don Black, an Alabama white supremacist who lives in West Palm Beach, Florida, founds an organization called Stormfront.

Stormfront’s Web site, Stormfront.org, will become the most prominent white supremacist site on the Internet, and will come to serve as the hub of a network of related Web sites. [SWAIN AND NIELI, 1995, PP. 153-157; SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER, 6/2001; SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER, 6/2005] The site states its purpose: “Stormfront is a resource for those courageous men and women fighting to preserve their White Western culture, ideals, and freedom of speech and association—a forum for planning strategies and forming political and social groups to ensure victory.” [NEW TIMES, 2/19/1998] The Stormfront motto is “White Pride World Wide.” Bob DeMarais, a former staff member of the neo-Nazi National Alliance (see 1970-1974), later writes, “Without a doubt, Stormfront is the most powerful active influence in the White Nationalist movement.”

By 2005, the site will boast some 52,000 members and Jamie Kelso, who will begin working with Black in 2002, will claim 500 new members join every week. DeMarais will give Kelso a great deal of credit for building the Stormfront community of users. [SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER, 6/2005] The Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) will call Stormfront.org the first “hate site” on the Internet. [SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER, 6/2001]

Began Extolling White Supremacist Ideology in High School, Went on to Lead KKK - Black began his career as a white supremacist while still in high school in the early 1970s, joining the National Socialist White People’s Party and handing out racist tabloids to his fellow students. In 1971, he was shot by Jerry Ray, the manager for white supremacist J.B. Stoner’s unsuccessful gubernatorial campaign in Georgia. Ray, the brother of Martin Luther King Jr.’s assassin James Earl Ray, thought that Black had broken into Stoner’s office to steal a mailing list for the National Socialist White People’s Party. Black recovered, and attended the University of Alabama, where he was ejected from the ROTC program for his racist statements. Subsequently he began working with Klan leader David Duke to revitalize the foundering Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (KKK). According to a 1995 report by the progressive New Times: “Duke taught Black it’s easier to attract supporters by criticizing affirmative action, illegitimate welfare births, and illegal immigration than labeling blacks as inferior or Jews as rich enemies.

The goal was to avoid inflammatory remarks and present oneself as dignified—sticking to the issues. Supremacy is presented as nationalism. And intolerance warps into a preference for one’s own heritage.” After Duke was forced out of the KKK over allegations of selling its mailing list, Black took over the organization until 1981, when he spent three years in prison for fomenting a plot with other supremacists to invade the tiny Caribbean island nation of Dominica (see June 21, 1981). Black learned to program computers during his prison term. He returned to Birmingham, Alabama, in 1985, telling friends, “I’m here to build the greatest white racist regime this country has ever seen." After quitting the Klan because of its overt advocacy of violence, he decided to execute his plans via the Internet, still in its infancy at the time. [SWAIN AND NIELI, 1995, PP. 153-157; NEW TIMES, 2/19/1998; BBC, 1/12/2000; SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER, 6/2005] Black's efforts will be quite successful; in 1995, he will tell a reporter: "A third of households have computers and with the phenomenal growth of the Internet, tens of millions of people have access to our message if they wish. The access is anonymous and there is unlimited ability to communicate with others of a like mind." [NEW YORK TIMES, 3/13/1995]

Launches Internet BBS that Becomes Stormfront - In 1991, having married Duke's ex-wife Chloe and moved to Florida, Black launched an Internet bulletin board (BBS) to support Duke's unsuccessful candidacy for a US Senate seat from Louisiana. In early posts on Stormfront, Black explains that white Americans have as much right to espouse their culture as any other group, and says that Stormfront attempts to provide an alternative to the mainstream American media, which he says is dominated by Jews and liberals who routinely disparage and mock whites.

Black says that his racist views are in line with those held by Thomas Jefferson and other Founding Fathers. He calls the site the Internet presence for the "white nationalist" movement, which proclaims its intention to "separate" from minorities and found an all-white nation or state within American borders. He will tell a reporter: "We believe that our people, white people in this country and throughout the world, are being discriminated against. They're being treated as second-class citizens. We're tired of seeing other racial and ethnic groups impose their agenda on us." [SWAIN AND NIELI, 1995, PP. 153-157; NEW TIMES, 2/19/1998; BBC, 1/12/2000]

Expansion - Between 1995 and 1997, Stormfront features the violent, racist writings of the National Alliance's William Pierce (see 1978), his former mentor David Duke, the National Alliance's Institute for Historical Review (a Holocaust-denying think tank), and others. The site promotes an array of conspiracy theories surrounding the 1992 Ruby Ridge shootings (see August 31, 1992), the 1993 Branch Davidian debacle (see April 19, 1993), and the 1995 Oklahoma City bombing (see 8:35 a.m. - 9:02 a.m. April 19, 1995). On Stormfront's Web site, right-wing lawyer Kirk Lyons compares the Branch Davidian events to the Nazi destruction of the Czechoslovakian town of Lidice. Anti-Semitic writer Eustace Mullins suggests that the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), an organization dedicated to tracking and challenging racist organizations, was behind the Oklahoma City bombing. The site houses a library of neo-Nazi graphics available for download, a list of phone numbers for racist computer bulletin boards not on the Internet, and a page of links to other hate sites. By 1997, Stormfront begins hosting pages of other extremist groups such as Aryan Nations (see Early 1970s), and individuals such as Ed Fields, who publishes the racist newsletter The Truth at Last. Black reprints white supremacist articles and essays, including one that attacks the Talmud, a Jewish holy book, as filled with "malice," "hate-mongering," and "barbarities." Black also reprints an essay by neo-Nazi Louis Beam (see February 1992), who claims he has knowledge of a Jewish conspiracy to censor the Internet. Black also adds new features to his site: pages "proving" the "inferiority" of the "Negro" race, a translation of Adolf Hitler's Mein Kampf, a page of "quotes" by Jews that are either false or deliberately mistranslated along with quotes by anti-Semites, and "White Singles," a dating service for "heterosexual, white gentiles only." Black also adds a news section, White Nationalist News Agency (NNA), which posts the text of articles from the Associated Press and other reputable news sources, apparently without legal permission and often with racist commentary included. Black also hosts "Blitzcast," an audio podcast that lets listeners hear speeches by the late George Lincoln Rockwell, the assassinated leader of the American Nazi Party; William Pierce; anti-Semitic Jew Benjamin Freedman; and Frank Weltner, who hosts another Black-operated site, Jew Watch. Yet another site Black hosts, Bamboo Delight, hides anti-Semitic materials behind the false front of a company selling "Tai Chi Chuan Chinese Exercise" materials. Looking past "Asian Health Philosophy" items such as the "Nine Treasure Exercises of Ancient China" videotape and the "Skinny Buddha Weight Loss Method" pamphlet, visitors find the downloadable computer programs "Jew Rats," "Police Patriots," "ZOG," and "Talmud."

These programs are interactive in the same way that Web pages are interactive: users "click through" their contents, viewing various pages filled with text and graphics. "Jew Rats" is a multi-panel cartoon that depicts Jews as rats that kill Christians and encourage integration. Blacks are depicted as sub-human gorillas. "ZOG" contains the complete text of the "classic" anti-Semitic forgery "The Protocols of the Elders of Zion" along with dozens of other documents that claim knowledge of Jewish plans for world domination. Adrian Edward Marlow, who owns the servers Black uses for Stormfront and the other related sites, has bought over 10 domains that seem to be the URLs of prominent newspapers such as the Philadelphia Inquirer, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, the Chicago Sun-Times, the Atlanta Constitution-Journal, and the London Telegraph. By October 1998, Marlow has redirected those domains directly to Stormfront. Typing in "philadelphiainquirer.com," for example, does not bring surfers to the Philadelphia newspaper's Web site, but to Stormfront. (The Inquirer will subsequently secure that domain name from Marlow.) [ANTI-DEFAMATION LEAGUE, 1998]

Deliberate Attempts at 'Moderating' Message - Black takes care not for his site to appear overly crude or violent. Forum posters are warned to avoid using racial slurs and not to post violent threats or exhortations to illegal activities, "moderating" tactics apparently learned from Duke. Black will also be somewhat successful at presenting himself, and by extension his supremacist ideology, on television, insisting that his site is more about presenting information not filtered by the "media monopoly" than promoting racist beliefs (see January
